

Leadership in Affordable Housing Certificate

Develop a solid knowledge of the economics of affordable housing as well as the key political and economic issues that created the affordable housing crisis. Then, armed with that knowledge, identify opportunities to address the issue.

HAMLINE.EDU/CPAL

- Demonstrate an understanding of the economics of affordable housing in rental and home ownership.
- Learn the impacts of government policies on equity and affordability in the housing market.
- Seek strategies for leaders to collaborate with government, industry, and the nonprofit sector to address the problem of affordable housing.

Online

Time to complete: 1 year

Overview

Schedule:

Courses are offered online with synchronous meetings Tuesday and Wednesday evenings two weeks per month. The two courses can be taken in any order.

See hamline.edu/affordable-housing for details.

Tuition:

$3,100, payable in two installments

Lead instructor:

Lyn Burton, president and executive director of Affordable Housing Connections

Barbara Dacy, community development and affordable housing policy expert

Courses:

- The Affordable Housing Crisis (4 credits)
- Leadership in Affordable Housing Policy (4 credits)

Center for Public Administration and Leadership

The Center for Public Administration and Leadership provides professional development and networking opportunities for public servants looking to make a difference in their workplaces and communities. To fulfill this mission, the center partners with professional associations and sector experts to design in-depth training based on the real needs of—and challenges facing—public sector leaders. As a result, participants in the center’s broad array of programs—certificates, conferences, and seminars—develop skills and strategies to further their commitment and service to the common good through forward-thinking dialogue about current issues and trends in public service.

Credit Options

Graduate-level credits from this certificate may be applied toward the Master of Public Administration or Master of Nonprofit Management.

Scholarships and Discounts

Scholarships for this certificate are available through Affordable Housing Connections.

For more information, visit ahcinc.net.

Hamline School of Business partners with many cities, counties, state agencies, and professional organizations to offer scholarships for its graduate degree programs.

10% discounts on all certificates and events are also available.

hamline.edu/business/scholarships

Register

Register at hamline.edu/affordable-housing.

Contact

 Hamline School of Business
1536 Hewitt Avenue, Saint Paul, MN

 651-523-2284

 hsb@hamline.edu

 hamline.edu/cpal